New Superintendent For Prison.

At a meeting at Montpelier of the penal board Ralph O. Walker of Barre, Mass., formerly of Vermont, was chosen to succeed Wilson S. Lovell who resigns April 1, next as superintendent of the state's prison. Mr. Walker, who is 34 years old was for five years connected with the Vermont State Industrial school entering the institution as a division officer and rising to the position of assistant superintendent. He lived in Vermont for 17 years prior to going, five years ago, to Barre to accept the position of superintendent of a boys' reformatory. Judge John E. Weeks, chairman of the penal board, in discussing the appointment of Mr. Walker as the new head of the prison, said that the new superintendent is blessed with perfect health, of irreproachable character and possesses a fine personality. Chairman Weeks said that Mr. Walker is an enthusiast in his chosen work and that he has met with marked success in institutional management. Mr. Walker is married and has two children. The new superintendent will assume his duties on April 1, when Superintendent Lovell leaves the institution of which he has been the head for nearly 10 years.

JUST NOW

Get ready to paint and varnish before spring cleaning comes. It will soon be here. Then if you get your inside work all done you can go to work outside. There are tables and chairs, floors and such to do over or retouch and a little paint and varnish restores them wonderfully, at small cost, too. Then the painters are not too busy at this season. Later they'll put you off sure until you'll say, "Why didn't I take the Peck Company's advice and do this work earlier?" "A stitch in time saves nine."

You may not know, but it's true, that we carry just about everything in the line of paint, varnish and brushes and we are glad to serve you—we'll send a man to do the work if you say so.

THE PECK COMPANY

The Citizens Savings Bank and Trust Company
has banking facilities best adapted to the needs of Vermonters.

Savings Deposits over Three Million Dollars. Interest, 4% per annum, the highest legal rate is paid. This is credited January and July 1st.

Check Accounts are increasing in numbers every year. Check books furnished free. Why not adopt this safe and most convenient method of handling your money.

Safe Deposit Boxes. We still have a few for $3.00 per year, a trifling sum to insure any valuables against loss, fire or theft.

Trust Department. We are authorized to act as Trustee, Executor, Administrator or Guardian. We believe our ability to handle trust funds in connection with our banking business is superior to that of most individuals.

Banking Hours. 8.30 a. m. to 3 p. m., and Saturday evenings from 7 to 8.30. It would be a pleasure to have you call and talk with us about banking.

WELLS RIVER

Sudden Death of S. E. Goss—Happenings of a Week in the Village.

S. E. Goss died very suddenly, Tuesday morning, March 3. He was around the house but complained of a severe headache about nine o'clock and lay down but soon became unconscious. Dr. Miller was called but he passed away at 10:30 without regaining consciousness. Mr. Goss was born in Manchester, N. H., April 20, 1842. In 1861 he enlisted in Co. F, 5th N. H. volunteers and served to the close of the war, was twice wounded and was a sergeant when mustered out. He came to Lyndonville in 1867 to work for the Passumpsic railroad and was an engineer for nearly forty years, and in all that time never had an accident that was due to his carelessness. He was retired in March 1907. He was a past commander of Col. Preston Post, G. A. R. of Wells River. He was a member of the Congregational church and had held the office of deacon and superintendent of the Sabbath school. His wife, Jane Annie Fowler, died April, 1903 and November 21, 1904 married Flora E. Brock, who with his two children, Willard J. and Mrs. G. E. Dodge of Newport, survive him. He was an active member of the Masonic order and made a Sir Knight of Malta Commandery of Newport in 1904. His funeral was from his home here Thursday morning, Rev. R. C. Flagg, of Burlington, officiating, and burial was at Lyndonville by the side of his first wife.

Word was received here Sunday from Burlington of the death in that city of Mrs. Isabel Foss, who was spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. D. D. Davis.

Mrs. Samuel Philbrook of North Haverhill was the guest of Mrs. Sidney Cameron last Friday.

Mrs. Ellen B. Fisher of North Haverhill spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Goodwin.

ACADEMY LOST TWO GAMES

Found Too Strong Opponents At Spaulding High and Montpelier.

St. Johnsbury Academy journeyed to Barre and Montpelier last week, and lost both to Spaulding High and Montpelier High. The boys put up a great game, however, in both places, and the games were hard ones to lose. The team missed the services of the tall Hill at center, who was unable to make the trip, but Stevens, a comparatively inexperienced man, played a fine game, both offensively and defensively, so that the center position was not as weak as was expected. The following account given by the Barre "Times" shows what an impression the academy team made in that town.

"The St. Johnsbury academy quintet, locally of unknown strength, were ushered into the Church street gymnasium last night and threw consternation into the Spaulding camp during the first session, when they assumed full sway over the contest and it was not until well into the last half that the Spaulding court rangers finally overcame a big lead and turned defeat into a 22 to 14 victory for the Red and Blue. The game was witnessed by a large gallery of spectators and proved to be one of the most interesting affairs that has been seen in local school circles for years.

The Caledonia county lads presented a personnel of players whose ability could not be questioned, and who should be powerful factors to be reckoned with before the award of the state championship title can be effected. Fresh from a most auspicious season in the eastern section of the state the St. Johnsbury lads furnished a brand of basket ball Spaulding found difficult to fathom and could not get into one of the merriest little contests. The Spaulding five entered the initial period minus the services of "Nell" Brown, the star center, and were soon found taking the small end of the argument. The visitors piled up a lead of 6 to 0 before Brown found his position.

Salmon's foul shooting was one of the finest exhibitions seen in the old church auditorium this season. Oliver was a tower of strength in the Spaulding backfield."

The floor work of Fiske was a revelation to the spectators. He moved his path with ease through the Spaulding attack and at times his superb playing electrified the galleries. Fiske was ably supported by his co-partner, Salmon, and Gibson.

Salmon's foul shooting was one of the finest exhibitions seen in the old church auditorium this season. Oliver was a tower of strength in the Spaulding backfield."

The score: St. Johnsbury. 19. Spaulding. 22. Baskets from the floor—Brown 4, Levin 2, Tomas 2, Salmon 2, Fiske. Baskets from fouls—Salmon 2, Brown 3, Levin 3, Fiske. Referee—Kennebeck. Umpire—Jenks. Timer—Agnew. Scorer—Blackmore. Time—20 minute halves.

The Game At Montpelier. Saturday evening at Montpelier, St. Johnsbury was defeated again with the greatest difficulty.

The game, played in the old Armory, where Montpelier daily practices, was nip and tuck until within the last 10 minutes, when the St. Johnsbury boys weakened a bit and Montpelier scored several times in succession.

The St. Johnsbury team work was of very high order, showing much improvement since Montpelier played here, and the boys had their eye on the basket, too. St. Johnsbury is a good road team and although unfamiliar with the other floor, yet play such a slashing game, that the home team has no surety of winning.

Harry Salmon was the star of the game in Montpelier, playing as good basket ball as had ever been seen there. Rushing up and down the floor, and scoring spectacular basket after basket, the heavy Montpelier guards could not hold him. Six of his eight baskets were clean shots from the center of the floor, a wonderful record for a visiting player.

R. Fiske tried a one hand overhead throw that rolled completely around the iron basket rim, and then rolled out. The Academy team as a whole showed first class ability, both individually and collectively, and had they had a little earlier start, could have disputed the Montpelier and Newport championship claims. The score.

Montpelier. 27. St. J. A. 19. Baskets from the floor—Laird 1, Gross 1, Hancock 1, Bartlett 1, Hayden 1, R. Fiske 1. Goals from fouls—Hayden 3, Salmon 3. Referee, Cullen. Umpire, Jenks. Timer, Demmore. Scorer, Smith. Time 20 minute periods. Attendance 300.

Saturday night, Newbury High will play the Academy team here, and the following week there will probably be the final game of the season with an alumni five.

The following letters are advertised at the post office: Ladies—Goodall, Mrs. Della; Phinney, Mrs. Jennie. Gentlemen—Blouin, Edwin C.; LeBaron, Wilbert; Commiskey, E.; White, Robert.

LYNDON.

Deaths of Frank Randall and Charles S. Hoyt—Personal and Locals.

Frank Randall, who was living by himself in an apartment at Mr. Kendrick's, died last Wednesday, after a short illness with pneumonia. He was carried to Lyndonville and the funeral services at the Methodist church were attended by his comrades of the Grand Army. His only relative present was his sister from St. Johnsbury. His age was about 70 years and he was a native of Danville.

Charles L. Hoyt, a life long resident of this town died Friday at Brightlook hospital, where he was carried, hoping that he would be able to undergo an operation, but upon examination the doctors decided that it was not possible to help him and he lived only a few days. Mr. Hoyt was the son of Joseph and Mary Weeks Hoyt and was born in April, 1841. He married for his first wife Marilla Houghton, who died a number of years ago, by whom he had two children, both of whom are living, Joe Hoyt of Barre and Mrs. Sarah Brown of Lincoln, Nebraska. He afterwards married Mrs. Joseph Ingalls, who survives him. The funeral services were held at the home, Rev. W. C. Clark of Barre officiating assisted by Rev. Mabel Johnson of Lyndon Center.
